Board Plans Letting of Record Number of Contracts Next Month.

Expansion of the engineering division of the State Highway Department to meet needs brought about by release of the state's $19,000,000 federal highway fund was mapped yesterday as Governor Talmadge and the highway board officially announcing the end of the long road fund controversy and release of the state's money.

"We have promised Secretary of Agriculture Wallace that our engineering force will be adequate and, quite naturally with such a large program to be launched, we will need more men," Chairman W. E. Wilburn said. "We will keep every promise made to the federal government and to the people of Georgia. The engineering force will be stepped up so that we will have all the men necessary to scrutinize every paving, grading and bridge project under contract."

Talmadge is silent. Governor Talmadge and members of the highway board had no public comment to make on the situation, all asserting they would await arrival of the Washington letter which, it is understood, went forth yesterday over the signature of Rexford T. Tugwell, acting secretary of agriculture in the absence of Secretary Wallace. The letter was drafted by Thomas H. MacDonald, director of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, who has been handling the negotiations for the federal government.

But, though the highway board had no public comment for publication, the state officials, Governor Talmadge included, could not conceal their feelings and it was quite apparent all were pleased that the state's greatest road building program can now go forward without interruption. The highway department was a beehive of industry. Draftsmen were rushing plans for a number of jobs which are to be submitted to contractors next month when the largest letting of the year, if not the largest in the history of the state, is contemplated. Chairman Wilburn let it be known Tuesday night, when announcement of the release of the funds came un-

Lost in Mountains 4 Days, Two Rescued

RED MOUNTAIN, Cal., Aug. 28. (AP)—Lost for four days in the Death Valley mountains, a mother and her 12-year-old daughter were rescued by two deputy sheriffs at Indian Springs last yesterday.

The pair, Mrs. John Backert and her daughter, Agnes, were separated by a trouble from their husband and father, John Backert, and another daughter, Ernestine, 22. Friday night, the latter pair started a 45-mile walk back to their home here for aid.

Mrs. Backert and Agnes set out about 10:30 a. m., and encountered mountain storms, finally reached Indian Springs. There, without food, but fortunately with plenty of water, they remained until found. Army airplanes aided in the search.

Secret Service Uncovers Racket Arising From FERA Check Forging

Thousands of Stolen Relief Checks Cashed by Unsuspecting Merchants, Who Must Take Loss; Two Cases Ready for Grand Jury.

Two cases of forgery to be handed to the federal grand jury in its special session today are the first results of an intensive secret service drive against a new and baffling racket that is growing rapidly throughout the country and threatening to clog the criminal calendars of federal courts.

The grand jury action today will be against two men charged with the theft and forgery of FERA checks. These checks, the government charges, were stolen from families who are on the relief rolls and cashed easily, without the necessity of disguising a signature.

The net results to the forgers is small, but the facility with which the racket is being conducted spurred government authorities to warn small merchants against cashing of relief checks on the United States Treasury unless they are certain of the identity of the person who asks them to cash a check.

Merchants Stand Loss. In all cases the merchant or banker who cashes the check must stand the loss when the forgery is established. The government accepts no responsibility for forged checks, and it is only through thorough co-operation of those persons who sometimes cash checks carelessly that the government hopes to curb the racket by making it unprofitable.

Scores of these cases have developed throughout Georgia since June. The first efforts of the secret service to ferret out this new type of forger shows the net result in Georgia of four men who have pleaded guilty within the last two weeks, six others out on bond awaiting trial at the October term of court, and the two who face indictments today.

George H. Brodnax, operator in charge of the local office of the federal secret service, has been swamped with the rapidly growing number of cases, and is working day and night at the tedious task of tracing the forgers and establishing their guilt.

Widespread Racket. The racket is spread throughout the country, it was said yesterday by I. K. Hay, assistant United States attorney in Atlanta, and the increasing number of cases promises a busy fall session in federal court.

HEARST SUPPORTS SMITH, TALMADGE

Publisher Says Team
Should Run on Genuine Democratic Ticket.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (AP)—William Randolph Hearst, in a statement on the political situation, tonight said, "I think Alfred E. Smith would make a powerful candidate" as presidential nominee "on the genuine Jeffersonian democratic ticket."

Disclaiming knowledge of the proposed formation of a "constitutional democratic" party with which his name had been linked, he assailed the "imported, autocratic, Asiatic socialist party of Karl Marx and Franklin Delano Roosevelt."

Suggests Talmadge. Smith, former governor of New York, said, "It is the accredited leader of the genuine democratic party. I desire only to serve, not to lead."

"His principles are the historic principles of the party. Associated with him should be Governor Roosevelt, or Senator Byrd, or Governor Talmadge."

Discussing the republican situation he said, "The republicans are not for me. I desire only to serve, not to lead."

"As a candidate, he would be a calamity equalled only by the depression with which he is so closely identified."

Published reports had attributed to the publisher promises of support for the democratic party faction proposed by Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state in the Wilson administration.

Colby said today of the movement, "I desire only to serve, not to lead."

The reports named Colby as the leader of a revolt of democrats from the New Deal and said that definite plans of organization probably would be announced in October.

ROPER IS CREDITED WITH ROAD PEACE

Secretary's Intercession
at Clark Howell's Request, Settled Dispute.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS. WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper was revealed today to have played a leading hand in negotiations leading to the reported settlement of the Georgia highway controversy, now awaiting a final letter from the Department of Agriculture to the State Highway Board announcing the release of the funds.

According to a suggestion by Clark Howell, editor and president of The Atlanta Constitution, Secretary Roper last week interceded in the Georgia dispute and after a series of conferences with "proper" administration officials, succeeded in persuading Agricultural Department heads to make further concessions to Governor Talmadge and the state board.

He is known to have conferred on the subject extensively with Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, and has discussed the situation several times with President Roosevelt.

STATE GETS BLOCK NEAR AUDITORIUM FOR FARM MARKET

Linder Announces Leasing of New Market Site Bounded by Courtland, Gilmer, Decatur Streets.

Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder yesterday announced that the state has acquired the block bounded by Courtland street, Gilmer street, Piedmont avenue and Decatur street as the site for the new Atlanta Farmers' Market.

The commissioner said that the work of establishing the market would begin immediately. He declined to make public the terms of seven leases he signed with owners of the property to be used for the market, but declared the "state got a big bargain."

Leases with the seven property owners were arranged by the Draper-Owens Company.

The market site is directly opposite the city auditorium and two and a half blocks from Five Points.

"I think it is the most advantageous site available in the city of Atlanta," Commissioner Linder said. "It is practically in the heart of the business district and yet far enough removed not to interfere with other business."

To Use Present Buildings. The block has several buildings on it which the commissioner plans to use for a market master's office and for any other purpose deemed necessary. The tract contains several acres.

"In addition we will construct a number of portable sheds which can be used to suit the convenience of the farmers as well as for trucks who may be bringing farm products into or through the city," Linder declared.

The entire program has not yet been mapped out, but we believe we will have things ready within a short time.

He added that construction of the sheds would be started about October 1.

The market site was acquired under the provisions of the act recently passed by the Georgia legislature, and is to be the hub of a state-wide market.

8TH WARD WOMEN FORM BOND DRIVE

Active Organization To Make Campaign in Behalf of Sewers, Schools.

Eight ward women yesterday formed an active organization for ratification of the $175,000 bond issue for school and sewer improvements at an enthusiastic meeting held at the Biltmore hotel.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Catherine Hillyer Comerat, chairman, the large group decided to comb the ward for new registrants and to carry the ratification drive to every home.

Mrs. Thomas R. Sanders was elected secretary of the committee and will begin her duties immediately. She proposes to establish liaison between the ward group and the citywide women's division for ratification of the bonds headed by Mrs. George Ripley.

Mrs. R. Murdoch Walker, former president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs and chairman of the citywide steering committee of women who are sponsoring passage of the bonds, Mrs. Ripley who, in addition to heading the women's committee, is president of the Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. George Brown, were the women speakers at the meeting.

Alderman Frank H. Reynolds, chairman of city council's sewer committee, whose indefatigable efforts in behalf of sewer modernization bid fair to be successful with the approval of the bond issue, also delivered short address.

Despite the heavy rains which preceded the meeting, a representative Continued in Page 9, Column 1.

G-MEN FIND GRAVE OF JOHN HAMILTON IN ILLINOIS TOWN

Federal Agents Had Dug Several Weeks for Body of Outlaw Believed Slain in Gun Battle in 1934.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The "most cunning" crook in the Dillinger gang was the last to be taken by federal agents—dead.

But to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, John Hamilton also was rated "as we in the bureau rate all gangsters—to us they're yellow rats."

The body was found in a gravel pit, six miles from Aurora, Ill., this afternoon.

Italian Cabinet Reassures England, Warns Against League Sanctions

Mussolini Agrees To Press Case Before Geneva Council, But Tells World He Is Prepared To Overcome All Obstacles in Path of Conquest.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY, BOLZANO, Italy, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Italy placed its case against Ethiopia before the world tonight, with a warning to England sanctions mean "grave complications," but an assurance that British imperial rights are not menaced.

After an extraordinary meeting near the battlefields of Bolzano, Premier Mussolini's cabinet proclaimed Italy would set forth the Ethiopian problem "in all its crude reality" before the September 4 session of the League of Nations council, and defend its policy "to the very last."

Reports from Paris hailed this assurance as the first step in Premier Laval's campaign to save the League by gaining its tacit approval for Italy's proposed penetration of Ethiopia. Laval has repeatedly requested II Duce to make as strong a case as possible before the Geneva body instead of either totally disregarding it or resigning.

The cabinet issued fundamental economic decrees to finance a prospective war with Ethiopia, but insisted: "Italy has a question to settle with Ethiopia. She does not have and does not wish to have questions with Great Britain, with whom during the World War, later at Locarno and recently at Stresa there was effected collaboration of undoubted importance for European stability."

"The fascist government thinks her colonial question should not have reactions on the European situation unless one wishes to run the danger of letting loose a new world war in order to prevent a great power like Italy from bringing order to a vast country where the most atrocious slavery and the most primitive conditions of existence reign."

"As to the problem of 'sanctions' which the League might be asked to approve, the cabinet declares to the Italian people and other peoples that to speak of sanctions means to take a place on an inclined plane from which to shoot off into the great complications."

The cabinet communique expressed the confidence of Mussolini's government that the League council would remember "that in previous, much more serious cases, the League of Nations did not vote, and even less Continued in Page 8, Column 7.

LONGINO TO FIGHT HIKE IN TAX RATE

County Commission May
Try To Raise '35 Levies
To Balance Its Budget.

Fight against any increase in the 1935 tax rate was promised yesterday by Commissioner George F. Longino, leader of the minority faction of the county commission, as he praised the presentments of the July-August grand jury which severely criticized the majority bloc of the county board for waste and extravagance in expenditures of public money.

As the budget this year is out of balance, he has been rumormongering that efforts will be made to hike the tax rate to raise more revenues when the county commission meets September 4.

Longino said he and Commissioner J. A. Ragsdale would oppose the increase to the limit.

Meanwhile, members of the majority faction had no comment to make on the regular presentments of the grand jury which were returned Tuesday.

Things Running Fine. Dr. Charles R. Adams, board chairman, was out in the county and could not be reached. Commissioner Ed L. Almond said, "I have nothing to say about the matter. Things are running fine now."

Commissioner Edwin E. Johnson, the acknowledged leader of the controlling group on the commission, is expected to arrive in Atlanta from Sea Island Sunday or Monday, and prepare for the first fall meeting of the board.

Atlanta bankers would not comment themselves yesterday on the request of the grand jury that they aid in stopping an "orgy of spending" by the majority bloc.

The grand jury pointed out that as the county is operating on borrowed money, the clearing house banks are in position to demand that the budget be balanced before any more money is advanced.

However, one banker said he saw no reason why the banks would not continue to lend the county money, so long as the loan was properly secured.

Payless Months. Fulton county employees would face payless months if the banks should tighten down on the county commission.

The grand jury did not ask that the banks refuse to lend cash to the county, however. It merely stated that the bankers can call a halt to the spending in excess of the budget, if they wish.

The county now issues warrants for salaries and for all purchases, which are cashed at the banks and are taken up by the county after sufficient money in taxes has been collected. The interest on the warrants is four per cent and the county is already in debt to the banks more than $2,000,000.

The warrants for June and July amount to $612,754 and more will be issued before enough taxes are collected to take them up.

The county is allowed to borrow up to 50 per cent of its anticipated revenues each year, and it has been the custom for many years for the commission to handle the county finances in this manner.

No Further Action. No further action is to be taken by the current grand jury until its final meeting Friday, unless something unexpected develops, George W. McCarty, foreman of the grand jury, said.

The regular presentments were returned Tuesday, which was out of the ordinary, and it was believed that possibly this jury will have more to say at its last session.

In its recommendations, contained in two special and the regular presentments, the July-August body has urged the county commission adopt a retrenchment program of expenditures if the county financial set-up is to be maintained; that salaries raised $102,000 this year be reduced to the 1934 level; that nearly 50 em-

BLOCK SANCTIONS, FRANCE DECIDES

Laval Maps Strategy To Sacrifice Ethiopia for Preservation of Peace in Europe, Save League.

By the Associated Press.

A declaration by Premier Mussolini, approved last night at an extraordinary session of his cabinet near the battlefields of Bolzano, told the world England "has nothing to fear from Italy" but sanctions will lead to "most serious complications."

A communique issued by the cabinet said Italy would defend its east African stand "to the very last" at the September 4 session of the League of Nations council. It said Italy has taken necessary steps to face sanctions, and cabinet decided upon a number of far-reaching economic provisions.

Pope Pius, in an address to the International Congress of Catholic Nurses at Castel Gandolfo, made a strong appeal against recourse to war as a means of solving the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

The French cabinet also met in a momentous session and authorized Premier Laval to proceed freely at the League of Nations' council session on the crisis September 4, to place France's safety above the possibility of an African war.

The French cabinet gave Laval a free hand to oppose any suggestion of threats of force against Italy, and urged that he strive to keep France on friendly terms with both Italy and England.

A London military source said senior members of the British army council have been ordered to remain in the vicinity of London in which was considered a precautionary move.

Labor Aid Sought. The British independent social party called upon organized labor to exert every effort to thwart Italy's African program, and the possibility arose that labor organizations throughout Europe would attempt to combat Continued in Page 8, Column 5.

Big Grants Reported For Secondary Roads

Allotments of PWA funds amounting to several millions of dollars yesterday were reported awarded for improvement of secondary roads in Georgia.

Bibb county officials said they had been allotted $1,131,402 to improve 300 miles of highways, while a middle Georgia district comprising 16 counties reported a $2,540,000 allotment.

The Athens district, it was said, has been allotted $1,700,000 for construction of city streets and farm-to-market roads, with district WPA directors instructed to have cities and counties submit street and road applications.

It was reported from Albany that approximately $1,000,000 had been awarded Dougherty county for similar work and from Statesboro that Bulloch county will have a share of $120,000.

Miss Gay B. Shepperson, Georgia PWA administrator, yesterday said she knew nothing of the allotments, and Washington officials were unable to shed any light on the reports.

13 PWA APPLICATIONS SEEK NEARLY MILLION

Georgia Cities Rush Petitions to State Headquarters as Deadline Nears.

Close to a million dollars of public improvements in 13 Georgia cities are provided for in applications for Public Works Administration funds received yesterday at the Georgia PWA office.

Because of the narrow time margin now provided for the acceptance of these applications in Washington, J. Clark Johnstone, chief engineer-examiner, is rushing skeletonized reports on each project without awaiting completion of complete plans.

Only eight days remain for Georgia cities and counties to submit their projects to the state office, the new deadline for the Atlanta office having been set for September 5, to enable that office to meet Washington's deadline of September 7.

Offices Open Sunday.
The Atlanta office will remain open Sunday and Monday to facilitate the work, Mr. Johnstone announced yesterday. Monday's holiday will not be observed. The early date for the filing of applications was made necessary, Mr. Johnstone said, because the allotment board will meet for the last

Page Warns Ginners On Cotton Tax Rules

Warnings to Georgia cotton ginners were issued by W. E. Page, internal revenue collector, yesterday that failure to collect exemption certificates or tax on cotton ginned by them would cause them to be legally liable under their bond for the amount of the tax.

"I have no alternative," Mr. Page said. "Ginners who fail to comply with the regulations will have their bonds cancelled and will be prohibited from further ginning. The condition will exist until the government is enjoined or the law is changed."

Mr. Page said it has been reported to him that in a number of instances a few ginners in Georgia are reporting incorrect weights on cotton ginned.

"This subjects them to fraud and penalty charges," Mr. Page said. "There very likely will be prosecutions within the next few days in the case of several ginners who are violating the regulations."

Lowman To Delay Presentation of Proposal to School Board.

The proposal of George S. Lowman, member of the Board of Education from the eighth ward, to bar married teachers from the Atlanta school system, will not be presented to the September 7 meeting of the board, it was announced last night.

In announcing the postponement of the presentation of the proposal, Mr. Lowman said that he considered the bond issue election of September 18 of primary importance and that he did not want to give the time necessary on the married teacher ban until after the election.

Consideration of the ban will be delayed until October, it was said. The proposal would ban the employment of married women teachers in the school system, but would not affect those at present employed. Employment of married women who can prove themselves the support of their family would also be permitted.

FORSYTH ADOPTS ITS OWN FLOWER

Highway Landscaper Urges Each Community To Feature One Plant.

Forsythia, known commonly as golden bell, soon will blossom along the streets and around the homes, schools and churches of Forsyth, Ga., according to Hubert B. Owens, landscape architect for the State Highway Department, who has returned from a tour of Georgia towns and cities where he spoke on city beautification. Interest and pride in improving landscapes was manifested in all towns he visited, Mr. Owens said. He predicted that a particular flower soon will be associated with towns throughout the state, and pointed out how iris is now associated with Athens and camellias with Marshallville. He spoke before civic clubs in Macon, Savannah, Montezuma, Monroe, Calhoun and in many other cities, he said. Forsyth already has planned to order and plant under his direction 5,000 shrubs of forsythia, a yellow flower ranging in height from three to ten feet, Mr. Owens said. The flower, which will blossom in the spring, is a native plant of China, and he will attempt to grow it in Forsyth as it grows naturally in the orient, he said. Species of forsythia which will be planted in Forsyth are viridissima, spectabilis, intermedia and suspensa, according to the architect.

JOHN P. LONDERGAN

HUGH WHITE IS NAMED MISSISSIPPI'S CHOICE

Opposed by Long's Faction,
Lumberman Has Substantial Lead.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Hugh L. White, rich Columbia lumberman, received the democratic nomination for governor tonight on the basis of unofficial but nearly complete returns from Tuesday's run-off primary. White is said to have been opposed by Huey Long's machine.

White was leading Paul B. Johnson, of Hattiesburg, former congressman, whom he charged with soliciting and accepting Long's support, by 12,000 votes late today. Only 39 of the state's 1,650 precincts were unreported and the final result was not expected to be materially changed by the late-reporting country boxes.

The Associated Press tabulation gave White 176,282, to Johnson's 164,490.

Apparently nominated as second in command as lieutenant governor was J. B. Snider, Senatobia publisher of a chain of weekly newspapers, whose 12,000-vote lead over State Senator Walter N. Taylor, of Clinton, can hardly be overcome by the late returns.

Walker Wood, secretary of state, apparently had been renominated over Joe S. Price; Carl Craig, of Goodman, will become the next state auditor and Newton James, state treasurer. The race for land commissioner between the incumbent, R. D. Moore, and Lewis S. May was a neck-and-neck race, with Moore holding a slight lead.

Although the unofficial returns clearly indicate White's nomination, which is paramount to election in Mississippi, Johnson's campaign headquarters declined to comment today, apparently awaiting more complete and official figures.

A report early in the day that Johnson would contest the vote in several counties was denied at his headquarters.

White had the active support of United States Senator G. Bilbo in the second primary campaign.

White proclaimed from the platform the sole issue was "whether or not Huey Long will annex Mississippi to his domain."

WHITE HAS COUSIN

LIVING IN ATHENS
ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Hugh L. White, who won the nomination for the governorship of Mississippi in Tuesday's democratic run-off primary, is a first cousin of Mrs. W. J. Morton, of Athens.

Several years ago he visited here and made many friends, who have followed with interest his race against Paul B. Johnson.

GENERAL ASSERTS U. S. VULNERABLE FROM AIR

Army Official Warns of Moving Big Truck Convoys on Single Route.

PINE CAMP, N. Y., Aug. 28.—(AP) Vulnerability of the American army to air attack under modern conditions was asserted today by Major General Lucius B. Holbrook, commander of the second corps, as high army officers summed up lessons learned from the maneuvers.

General Holbrook said that while the peacetime concentration worked out smoothly, the great truck convoys that moved the troops to the "war zone" would have made excellent air targets.

He suggested that it might be better for the army to adopt the "decentralized method" of moving single trucks by different roads by day and night "than to move them in large vulnerable convoys."

General Fox Conner, commander of the first corps, said that maneuvers had demonstrated weakness in the army's communication system. He said he doubted the efficiency of radio for field work and pointed out that many messages were garbled during the war games.

General Holbrook said the army's war games had demonstrated that Uncle Sam's national guard troops, if thrown into war, would soon be "invisible."

Decatur Banker Is Dead

S. H. ALLEN, BANKER, PASSES AT HOUGHTON

Prominent Decatur Capitalist and Business Leader To Be Buried Today.

S. H. ALLEN, 417 Clairmont avenue, Decatur, prominent banker and businessman, died yesterday in a private hospital in Houghton, Ga., after an illness of about one month.

Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist church, Decatur, with Dr. Charles T. Brown, of Gainesville, Ga., and Dr. A. J. Moncrieff officiating. Burial will be in the Decatur cemetery with A. S. Turner in charge.

Mr. Allen, who died at the age of 63, was born and lived during his youth in Forsyth county, where he was a large landowner until his death. He began teaching at the age of 10, and was graduated with high scholastic honors from Mercer University.

He first became prominent in banking and business circles in Forsyth county, after serving as clerk of the Forsyth superior court for several terms. During the war he was chairman of the Liberty Bond committee from his district and president of the Bank of Cumming.

Mr. Allen moved to Decatur 18 years ago and soon thereafter became a director of several Atlanta banks. He was active in fraternal organizations, and at the time of his death was 32nd-degree Mason and a member of Yarnab temple.

His health forced his retirement from active business life, and he has spent the past several years quietly, living in Decatur and in Plymouth, Fla., where he maintained a home. He was deeply interested in the development of citrus groves in Florida.

He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Carrie Nichols; three daughters, Mrs. Clara Mae Reiner, Berkeley, Cal.; and Misses Imogene and Mary Allen, of Decatur; one son, Truman N. Allen, Plymouth, Fla.; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Stovall and Mrs. Mary Morgan, of Peachock, Texas.

Aunt of Joan Crawford Passes Here After Five Weeks' Illness.

Mrs. Eugene T. Rodermann, of 724 Cumberland circle, N. E., an aunt of Joan Crawford, movie star, died yesterday at a local hospital after an illness of five weeks.

Mrs. Rodermann, who had been a resident of Atlanta for the past 10 years, was born in San Angelo, Texas, on May 23, 1895. Before her marriage she was Miss Sue Leona Johnson. Her husband is well known in Atlanta as a publicity director.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Mary Johnson; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Kutcher and Mrs. Anna Crawford; one brother, Sylvester Johnson; niece, Joan Crawford, and a nephew, Harold Crawford, all of Los Angeles, Cal.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Sacred Heart church. Burial will be in the city view cemetery.

Relatives here said yesterday that Mrs. Rodermann was a very close friend of her famous niece, who will be unable to attend the funeral services. Miss Crawford, by telephone, told relatives here that she was unable to leave the west coast because of the production schedule of a picture now being made.

Harold Crawford left Los Angeles last night via plane to be present at the services, it was announced.

BARON GOES ON TRIAL IN ACCIDENTAL DEATH

KINGSTON, Surrey, England, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Decidedly sought after by the police today on the charges of manslaughter and reckless driving against him as the result of an auto accident in which a man was killed.

The baron pleaded not guilty to the charges and reserved his defense for the trial.

British tradition requires all peers accused of felonies must be tried by the house of lords in a picturesque ceremony in which the accused man kneels on a velvet cushion before the bar while the barons sit by in crimson chairs. Not since 1901, when the trial of the highborn marquis of the Earl of Russell, to Mollie Cooke, at Reno, Nev., shocked Victorian England, has a British peer been so tried.

TWO CAUGHT ASLEEP IN CAR FULL OF LOOT

Two Atlanta men, wanted by police of Bogart, Winder and Athens, Ga., have been turned over to Bogart officers by DeKalb county police, who found them asleep in an automobile said to contain loot from various alleged robberies.

They are John Anthony, 34, and Paul Clark, 21, of a Fair street address.

The loot from the robbery, which the men claimed they won in a "crap game" near Winder, included tires stolen from the automobile of the chief of police of Winder. Merchandise "won in a crap game" ranged from beer to snuff, police said. The men were arrested by Patrolman C. W. Austin near the Decatur city limits.

F. D. R., HULL COOPER ON U. S.-SOVIET RIFT

President and Secretary Decide To Proceed With Care on Issue.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(UP) The United States government decided today to proceed cautiously in its dispute with the Soviet over communist propaganda.

Passing responsibility to President Roosevelt for the next step involving Soviet-American relations, Secretary of State Cordell Hull and his advisers spent half an hour with the chief executive, discussing the whole situation. After the meeting, R. Walton Moore, assistant secretary of state and Hull's chief adviser on Russian affairs, said:

"We are not going to be in any great hurry to take action. There will be no announcement today."

It was the President who personally conducted the negotiations which culminated in diplomatic recognition of the Soviet Union. Hull at that time was en route to South America attending the seventh Pan-American conference and had practically no hand in the negotiations. Since his return, however, he has had the responsibility for attempting to get along with the Soviet through a series of fruitless negotiations for settlement of the American claims against Soviet Russia, trade agreements, and the conduct of political relations between the two countries.

The state secretary carried to the White House the note received from Moscow yesterday in answer to the vigorous protest to the Soviet by the United States against the activities of the Communist Internationale in the internal affairs of this country.

The Soviet note denied all responsibility for the communists' activities and added sarcastically that its position should be nothing new to the United States. The State Department had warned the Soviet that "the most serious consequences" might be anticipated unless Moscow showed a willingness and ability to curb the communist body's anti-American activities. Diplomatic observers agreed practically unanimously that the Soviet rejection of the American protest leaves the administration with little choice but to define what "the most serious consequences" are, and to apply them, or to back down from the position taken in protest.

CHIEF W. O. PARKER LAID TO FINAL REST

The body of DeKalb County Chief of Police W. O. Parker was borne to his final resting place yesterday afternoon by the men of his command.

The services were held at the Decatur Presbyterian church. The Rev. Robert Ivey, pastor of the Georgia Avenue Presbyterian church, of which Chief Parker was for many years a deacon, and the Rev. W. H. Moore, pastor of the Capitol Avenue Baptist church, officiated. Burial was in Crown Hill cemetery.

The funeral was attended by a number of county and state, who formed an escort of honor to the beloved police official.

Tribute to Chief Parker was paid in the Clayton county courthouse at Jonesboro by Judge James C. Davis, of the Stone Mountain circuit, which included DeKalb county when the judge adjourned trial of a murder case.

In announcing the adjournment of court, Judge Davis eulogized Chief Parker both as a man and a police official, paying high tribute to his administration of the DeKalb county police force.

LEGION CORPS INSISTS AWARD FAIRLY WON

The Atlanta Legion's drum and bugle corps won the state Legion competition in Macon last week by the unanimous decision of five judges, who rendered their verdict according to national rules by a point system, and technicalities cannot be called up to disqualify the corps, Roy Crawley, The LaGrange corps has announced that it was preparing a formal protest charging that the Atlanta unit disqualified itself on three technicalities. The charges, Crawley said, could have resulted in a reduction of the number of points awarded the Atlanta corps by the judges, but cannot be used as a basis for disqualification. The only basis for disqualification of a Legion drum and bugle corps is the presence of a non-member of the Legion in the corps.

FIRST HINT OF AUTUMN ARRIVES IN MIDWEST

Crisp 'October Day' Brings Top Coats Out, Mercury Drops to 27.

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—An October day—bright, blue and decidedly crisp—slipped in today on the midwest's August, bringing a set of low temperatures for the summer and concern for the corn crop.

With a night drop of 38 degrees to a minimum of 27, Wishek, N. D., was the chilliest spot in the region but top coats felt not uncomfortable over a wide area.

Frost damaged garden stuff and flowers in Minnesota, where Bemidji, with 23, was the state's coolest. Corn in low places suffered in other parts of the state.

No frost but a 34 minimum was reported in Carroll, Iowa, in the heart of the corn belt and the weather bureau said a continuation of the unseasonable cold might result in a serious curtailment of the crop, off to a later start than usual this summer because of the cool, wet spring.

The mercury dropped to its second lowest record for the day in Chicago, hitting 50 on the government thermometer, at the municipal airport a minimum of 49, equal to the low for the day was registered.

Forecaster J. R. Lloyd, of the Chicago weather bureau, said the cool weather would continue tonight but that Thursday would be warmer.

Dr. Irving Krick, meteorologist for an airline here, ascribed the low temperatures to a mass of polar continental air which swept down from Alaska, dissipating the usual tropical air mass near the earth's surface.

Mounted Gull Pride of WLG Museum

A prize curiosity in the museum of Walter Wellborn Jr., and two of his friends, is this well mounted herring gull which Walter is examining. STATE DRIVE MAPPED BY YOUNG DEMOCRATS

Georgia Division Seeks Only
Party Loyalists in Political Jobs.

The Georgia division of the Young Democrats of America yesterday launched a state-wide organization campaign and also a campaign to bring about the appointment of only loyal democrats to political jobs in Georgia.

At the same time, the division, headed by President R. J. Reynolds Jr. of Atlanta, dispatched a telegram to Robert Black, executive secretary of the national organization, urging the appointment of a native Georgian to the post of state director of the National Youth Movement, a post now held by Dean Raymond R. Paty, of Emory University, who, although a native of Tennessee, has been an instructor at Emory for a number of years.

Marrin O'Neal Jr., of Savannah, a state vice president, was named by Mr. Reynolds as director of organization work as the campaign was mapped at a caucus of the organization's executive committee.

"We are going to begin an intensive drive in every section of Georgia," Mr. O'Neal said. "We plan by spring to have a working organization in all of Georgia's 159 counties and make the voice of young democracy heard far and wide."

Mr. Reynolds said the national convention which he and other Georgia delegates attended in Milwaukee last week was one of the greatest in the history of the organization.

"Every state was represented and all reported the democratic party is

Monkeys Recaptured and Returned To Frank Buck's Camp While Drunk

Soused Simians Placed in Separate Cages, Provided With Ice and Cold Water and Given Chance To Sober Up;
Two Become Belligerent.

MASSAPEQUA, N. Y., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Victims of skull-duggery, three drunken monkeys were captured today and returned to Frank "Bring 'em Back Alive" Buck's monkey camp.

The monkeys had fallen for a last and desperate trick on the part of Buck's employees who have employed various methods to capture them since they escaped from the animal-house more than a week ago.

The animals had imbibed too freely of whisky which was placed last night in saucers and scattered over the woods in which the fugitives were hiding.

The inebriated trio was taken into custody without much trouble. The monkeys were very cock-eyed and defenseless.

One of the creatures was in a drunken stupor. He wanted only to be let in great shape nationally," he said.

The telegram sent to Secretary Black follows:

"The delegation from Georgia returning from our national convention at Milwaukee hereby requests that you communicate with the proper party authorities and request that a native Georgian be appointed to direct the National Youth Movement in Georgia."

"Gizzard" Invented.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—After long effort, Dr. Roy H. Waite, of the University of Maryland's poultry department, has invented a "mechanical gizzard."

It duplicates the action that takes place within a chicken's gizzard and tests the quality of grit fed to birds.

STENCH BOMBS HURLED BY HUNGARIAN NAZIS

BUDAPEST, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Anti-Jewish demonstrations here entered the stench bomb stage today in a motion picture house.

During the showing of a Palestine film, in which the actors speak Hebrew, members of the Arrow Cross organization—Hungarian nazis—threw stench bombs into the audience and caused a panic.

Police cleared the house and arrested one person.

COOL, RAINY WEATHER FORECAST FOR TODAY

More rain is expected for Atlanta today, with winds from the northwest helping to hold the mercury down. The steady showers in Atlanta for the last 36 hours have brought less than a half-inch of rain, but this figure will be increased before the present rainy spell is ended.

Yesterday's highest temperature was 81 at noon and at 1 p. m., but showers during the afternoon drove the mercury down into the upper seventies. Today's highest is not expected to exceed 84 degrees.

Three Atlanta Boys Open Museum With Fine Display of Curiosities

"WLG Museum Opens Today," a sign on the lawn of Walter Wellborn Jr., of 80 Palisades road, announced yesterday.

And there is a museum of stuffed owls, pickled snakes, freak turtles, squirrel skins and other fowls and animals which, if not in keeping with Smithsonian grandeur, is nevertheless the work of three ingenious youngsters who "are mighty anxious to make money and to interest the public in nature." The boys are Walter Wellborn Jr., Lea Richmond and Grady Black Jr. They took the first letter of their names as a name for their house of curiosities.

They eagerly awaited visitors all yesterday afternoon for they've spent three years catching snakes and birds, and, as Lea pointed out, a museum is expensive. Furthermore, they had to persuade Mr. Wellborn to let them use his garage, and it took several weeks to install shelves, place the animal-inhabitants in a natural setting and paint the museum green.

Advertise by Telephone.

"And the only way we've advertised is by telephone," stated young Wellborn.

But they really have an exhibition. Grownups, as well as children of the neighborhood, were there yesterday afternoon listening to the boys rattle off the Latin names of birds as they—grownups—might the alphabet.

They have about 20 snakes—coch whips, ground and diamond rattlers, coral and green—freak turtles; squirrel and alligator skins; skulls and bones of many animals and a special exhibition of stuffed birds. Their roseate spoon bill wading bird is almost extinct, they said. In addition they have two horned owls, an American bittern and a well-mounted herring gull.

This gull, which Dr. Howard Bucknel, of Tupper Lake, N. Y., formerly of Atlanta, sent them, is the most valuable curiosity in the museum, according to Lea. But Walter thinks the most valuable thing is their display of petrified wood, moss and fish. If not, it's the fallow horns of a reindeer, which a friend sent them from England, he said.

Opusculum Family Present.

A mother opusculum and three of its young are the only live animals in the museum. A flying squirrel, which the boys have well mounted on moss and a limb in a glass case, looks as if it might fly out of the museum any moment, however.

They are proud of that squirrel and also of a letter they received from A. Wetmore, assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, they said. Eugene Black III, corresponding secretary, wrote Mr. Wetmore asking for some scientific pamphlets on animal life. Though Mr. Wetmore wrote them his pamphlets might be too technical for them, he encouraged them to continue their study, they said.

The boys announced that the museum will be open to the public every Thursday afternoon. Walter will enter North Fulton High school this fall; Lea will enter O'Keefe Junior High and Grady attends the E. E. Horowitz school. They all expect some day to be scientists with "real equipment."

NEGRO IS QUESTIONED IN SLAYING OF WOMAN

BRIDGEPORT, N. J., Aug. 28.—(AP) Police questioned a 30-year-old negro farm laborer today in their investigation of the slaying of a Minnie Horowitz, 55-year-old farm wife.

Mrs. Horowitz was found crumpled in her bedroom by her husband last night when he returned from a marketing trip. Her skull was split. Bureau drawers were ransacked.

County Detective Albert F. Murray and State Police Detective Lewis A. Broneman said Roman Johnson, the negro, denied any knowledge of the slaying after eight hours of questioning, but he could not explain the source of $3.10 found in his pockets.

ACROBAT BADLY HURT IN PLUNGE OF 18 FEET

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—An audience of 800 in the Palace theater saw Louis Borsalino, 31, acrobat, plunge 18 feet to the stage when he missed the hands of his partner after a double somersault. He was in serious condition today.

Borsalino, whose home is at 31 North Second street, Reading, Pa., was a member of the "Four Carrots Pearls" an act in which the acrobats worked from fixed supports instead of trapezes.

The double somersault was the climax of the act.

ITALIAN IRON IMPORTS ARE DOUBLED IN MONTH

Ethiopia Buys None, But Japan Retains Lead; British Buying Drops.

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Reflecting preparations for her projected campaign in Ethiopia, Italy was shown by Commerce Department figures tonight to have more than doubled her purchases of scrap iron and steel through this port during July, as compared with June.

A study of statistics at the custom house disclosed that 62,169 tons of scrap—raw material for the crucibles of war—were shipped to the Italian New York last month, as against 26,271 tons in June and 21,805 tons in July, 1934.

The value of the shipments jumped from $240,367 in June to $610,181 in July.

Although the figures were made available without comment, the increase in scrap consignments to Italy became the more noticeable when it was found the total of shipments to all countries had dropped from 215,068 tons in June to 205,770 in July.

Conspicuous by her absence from the list was Ethiopia, not a pound of scrap having been registered as leaving New York for the east African empire during the first seven months of this year.

Japan retained the position she has held for some time as the leading purchaser of iron and steel junk through this port, taking a total of 109,982 tons during July.

The total tonnage consigned to the three leading purchasers during the first seven months of this year, as compared with the same period in 1934, follows:

Japan 1935 1934
July 109,982 109,982
June 109,982 109,982

The government recently reported United States signature holds wide potentialities for eliminating holding companies.

The provision, little discussed and inserted just before the Senate passed the tax measure, is designed to encourage top holding companies to break up subsidiaries voluntarily.

Under this clause, if a parent corporation owned 80 per cent or more of the stock of a subsidiary and desired to liquidate the subsidiary, it could do so without paying a capital gains tax at the time of liquidation.

Sees Three Good Reasons. Tax experts said there were three good reasons why holding company systems might want to take advantage of this outlet to corporation simplification:

1. The bill on President Roosevelt's desk taxes 10 per cent of inter-corporate dividends.

It boosts taxes on undistributed net income of personal holdings companies.

President Roosevelt, in his wealth tax message, recommended for future consideration "the elimination of unnecessary holding companies, through taxation."

The capital gains tax exemption for holding company liquidation was inserted at the request of Senator Hastings, republican, Delaware. But it was accepted by Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, on behalf of the administration.

The new provision reads:

"No gain or loss shall be recognized upon the receipt by the corporation of property or money distributed in complete or partial liquidation of another corporation, if the corporation receiving such property owns at least 80 per cent of the voting stock of the other corporation."

"As used in this paragraph 'partial liquidation' means any one of a series of distributions by a corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all its stock."

The provision would take effect for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1935.

In other words, if the holding company bought the remaining subsidiary stock for $100,000 and it was worth $200,000 at the time, under the present law it would have to pay a tax on the $100,000 capital gain with the amount of the tax depending on how long the stock had been held.

The new law would exempt it from such tax. But if the holding company later sold the stock that acquired the subsidiary, it would be subject to tax.

The new law would apply only to holding companies organized at the time the act becomes effective.

U. S. AWARDS CONTRACT FOR LINK IN PARKWAY

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Construction work on the first link of the 400-foot-long scenic highway to connect the Great Smoky Mountains National park in North Carolina with the Shenandoah National park in Virginia was expected today to begin within two weeks.

Announcement was made by the Interior Department that contract for the first link, a 12-mile stretch extending from the Virginia-North Carolina state line to North Carolina State Highway No. 26, had been let to Nello L. Teer, of Durham, N. C., who submitted a low bid of $363,587.

It will be clear that from the treaty of Uccialini on there was always recognized to Italy rights of colonial priority in Ethiopia.

This memorandum will be accompanied by small but most recent and well-known literature by English, German and French writers depicting Ethiopia as she is in her chaotic condition of retrograde slave-holding tribes with no-existent central power.

Italy intends to defend her thesis, her needs, her necessities of security and her interests of life up to the very last and every member of the League of Nations will be able to see the face of tomorrow's eventualities.

WANT NO TROUBLE WITH GREAT BRITAIN. After having depicted the attitude of the British government toward Ethiopia as she is in her chaotic condition of retrograde slave-holding tribes with no-existent central power, the head of the government declared that Great Britain has nothing to fear from what will be the Italian policy toward Ethiopia.

Italy's policy does not menace either directly or indirectly England's imperial interests, therefore the malicious alarm excited in some circles is simply absurd.

Italy has a question to settle with Ethiopia: She does not have and does not wish to have questions with Great Britain, with whom during the World War, later at Locarno and recently at Stresa there was effective collaboration of undoubted importance for European stability.

The fascist government thinks her colonial question should not have reactions on the European situation unless one wishes to run the danger of letting loose a new world war in order to prevent a great power like Italy from bringing order to a vast country where the most atrocious slavery and the most primitive conditions of existence reign.

As to the problem of "sanctions" which the League might be asked to approve, the cabinet declares that the Italian people and other peoples that speak of sanctions means to take a place on an inclined plane from which to shoot off into the gravest complications.

The fascist government believes, nevertheless, that it will find in the League council a group of responsible and wise men ready to repulse every hateful, dangerous proposal of sanctions against a nation such as Italy; men capable also of remembering that in previous, much more serious cases, the League of Nations did not vote and even less could have applied, sanctions of whatever nature.

FULLY PREPARED TO RESIST SANCTIONS. In any event, the fascist government fulfills its precise duty by making known to the Italian people that the problem of sanctions has been examined by the highest military authorities of the regime under all aspects and that as regards eventual sanctions of a belligerent nature, decisions and measures necessary to confront them have been taken already some time ago.

In view of possible future eventualities and in order to guarantee our economic resistance, problems of what is required for the necessities of national life have been examined. Food requirements are being published by groups of the present agricultural year, which are particularly abundant for wheat and rice.

In regard to requirements of an industrial nature, the cabinet declares that consumption of a civil nature must be given to that required by the military exigencies of the present and future.

UNITED STATES UNABLE TO ABSORB REFUGEES

GENEVA, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The United States informed the League of Nations today that it was unable to absorb any refugees on account of immigration restrictions.

This statement was in reply to a circular appeal to the nations to receive an estimated 1,500,000 refugees from Germany and other countries.

Lijassu, an advised informant said, is living in complete comfort in a palace especially built for him by the emperor. His wife and child are with him and he is a prisoner only to the extent that he is not allowed outside the palace compound.

Emperor Haile Selassie ordered a gas mask drill today to familiarize natives with their use.

NEW NAME FOR WAR IS SOUGHT BY LAVAL

PARIS, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Premier Pierre Laval's design for removing the word "war" from the French constitution, under the name of "European peace," was given a new name to the French cabinet's authority to prepare for war.

He obtained approval to place France's safety above the possibility of an Ethiopian war.

It took him four hours, he told him he could go so far as to oppose any suggestion of sanctions against Italy, but he would not make a request—that he try to save France the friendship of both Italy and Great Britain.

It was the longest cabinet session in years and President Albert Lebrun presided. Laval, who had tried to compose British and Italian differences by the aid of the unsuccessful tripartite conversations and, since then, had continued his efforts to avoid the danger of war by talking to the British and Italian ambassadors to France, explained his efforts and offered his plan as "one of the least of several evils."

He was pessimistic, an informant said, about the chance of effecting a peaceful settlement of the east African situation but was confident the spread of war to Europe, if it comes, can be prevented.

Laval's insistence he be given strong assistance at Geneva indicated the gravity of the situation. The French ambassador to London, M. Berenger, the last named pair being president of the foreign council, respectively, Joseph Paul-Boncour, France's permanent delegate to the League, will also go to Geneva for the meeting, which begins September 4.

Officials explained, after the cabinet meeting, the "German menace" is spurring the premier to utmost efforts to maintain the three-power front in which France, Britain and Italy have been allied. He seeks also, they said, to save the prestige of the League of Nations.

These officials explained that France must subordinate her sympathy for Ethiopia's plight to her concern for endangered Europe and that

When the League council meets next week, it was learned from inside sources, the French government will formally renew an Anglo-French offer to give Italy wide economic and partial administrative control of Ethiopia.

Officially from Washington, that a number of important projects, some of them in the Atlantic area, would be rushed to completion in order that they may be included in the September letting.

Highway officials of the highway department let it be known that, in order to speed up work on the entire road program, they will have to slow down on delegations and job seekers.

The highway department cannot get through with its work if the board members have to spend most of their time waiting on delegations, a high official said.

The board members are thoroughly familiar with the needs of their respective districts and if the people want the whole program pushed they can help by not coming to Atlanta in large numbers to take up the time of the board.

Likewise job seekers were told the board already has determined whom to employ and no additional help beyond that will be needed.

Pope will go to Paris Thursday to see Laval. Although on an unofficial mission, he has devoted most of his time to consideration of the international situation. He is a member of the senate foreign affairs committee.

He walked several miles, all the way to Jonesboro and into the office of Sheriff E. L. Adamson.

Police service was not so efficient for Cheatham. Barely had his predecessor Morrow plucked the letter from the mail box when Patrolman William C. Patrick pounced on him and rushed him to the city jail just in time for lunch. But Cheatham looked calm and there was not a soul in sight.

He stood waiting for someone to show up and idly opened the letters. There was no money inside. They were personal letters, not interesting enough reading even to while away the time until a policeman showed up. But Cheatham was not discouraged.

Suez Canal, Gateway to Far East, Now Center of World's Attention

Italian Troops and Munitions Pour Through It on Way to East Africa, While Great Britain Masses Warships To Enforce Neutrality.

known also for the failure of the later attempt to build a canal at Panama in the 1880's. The Suez canal, however, was a success once its sponsors had overcome diplomatic obstacles and early financial troubles. Strangely enough, de Lesseps' efforts to gain consent to the building of the canal from the sultans of Turkey, to whose empire Egypt then belonged, were opposed by the British government.

Work on the canal was begun in 1859 and it was opened to traffic ten years later with a lavish celebration given by the Egyptian khedive and attended by the Empress Eugenie, of France, the emperor of Austria and other royal personages. In 1934 the canal was used by 5,665 vessels. This compares with 5,538 ships which used the Panama canal during the fiscal year ending in June, 1934.

Canal Has No Locks. Unlike the Panama waterway, the Suez canal has no locks and is built at sea level. At the Mediterranean end is Port Said, named for Said Pasha, Egyptian viceroy, who built the canal. The city stands on a low, sandy coast; its harbor made muddy by waters of an arm of the Nile which reaches the sea near by.

From the smaller city of Suez, at the canal's southern end, can be seen the mountains of the Sinai peninsula, one of which is said to be the Mt. Sinai of the Bible. Some believe that the crossing of the Red sea by the children of Israel may have taken place near the southern end of what is now the canal, when the Red sea extended farther inland.

From the canal's history traders and soldiers alike have dreamed of a water route across the isthmus of Suez. The Egyptians, from 1350 to 1300 B. C., dug a canal which joined the Nile river with the Red sea by way of Lake Timah. Eventually this became choked with sand, but another canal was dug about 600 B. C., again joining the Red sea and the Nile.

This remained navigable until the time of the Battle of Actium in 31 B. C., when it is said that some of Queen Cleopatra's ships escaped by the Red sea after their defeat by Octavian. The canal was restored, once by the Roman Emperor Trajan and again in the seventh century A. D. by Amru, Islamic conqueror of Egypt.

The "Last Roundup" on board have been reading, shuffle board, deck golf and an English phonograph with a set of recordings of the same make. The most amusing of these is "The Last Round Up," sung by an unknown cowboy crooner, probably from Piccadilly, who comes in from the strong on the broom—a "last" roundup. You can see this chap saddling old Point for the "last" time. Among this collection is "Marching Through Georgia," played by majesty's Goldstream Guards. The captain thinks it great fun to chide me by playing this record. The piece is really a melody and includes "Way Down Upon the Suwannee River."

The ship's doctor asked if I lived near the Suwannee river, when I replied, "not so far away," he said. Oh, he said, he was there many times. This doctor is truly a character of a unique type, a graduate of the Dublin School of Medicine, having served as army and naval surgeon, he joined the Booth line as ship's doctor, and while serving in this capacity he writes travel sketches and entertains his passengers with a little piano which he carries with him. He has composed several popular songs.

Story of Wig. He owns a good stock of eccentric mannerisms which find free play. One day while strolling on deck with a group of passengers he remarked to a lady in the group: "Madam, this wind is strong enough to blow your formation of all automobiles and trucks into charcoal gas-burning vehicles so as to save gasoline."

The communique said Italy would go to Geneva with a full "documentation" against Ethiopia.

10 Provisions. The cabinet presented the will with the following 10 main points:

1. Italy will go to the League with documentation to prove Ethiopia is "retrograde and slave-holding."

2. "Italy intends to defend her interests of life up to the very last."

3. "Italy has nothing to fear from Italy's policy toward Ethiopia."

4. "The fascist government thinks the colonial question should not reflect upon the European situation unless someone wants to run that risk."

5. Sanctions may lead to "the most serious complications" but the fascist government will take the necessary measure to face them.

6. The government has taken steps to guarantee economic resistance, including:

"Mollie" of all the leaders are serving prison terms.

"And the girls are as bad as the men," Hoover said. "They do the firing. They go out and rent apartments and look over the lay of the land while the men stay in hiding. Then when everything is ready, the gangsters swing into action, quick. And their girls follow them."

Doctors, nurses, lawyers, relatives—everyone who sheltered the hunted "rats," gave them food, bandaged their wounds, changed their faces with surgery; tried to turn off the "heat" were cornered and led to trial, Hoover asserted.

About a year after a "death tip" had come, the federal agents found the approximate location of Hamilton's grave. For weeks they dug, until they found the remains.

A gravel company's sign stood near the spot to just at the fallen gunman. Ironically, it read:

"Not to be taken."

Hamilton was accused of at least three murders, of automobile theft and of participation in a string of profitable bank robberies.

Hamilton, who would have been 35 years old this year, had served two years of a 25-year sentence for automobile banditry, which he had served in the Michigan State Penitentiary in September, 1933, in a plot supposedly engineered by Dillinger.

Hamilton Accused.

In turn, Hamilton was accused as one of the three gunmen who a few days later rescued Dillinger from a jail at Lima, Ohio, after shooting to death Sheriff Jess Sawyer.

One of the most vicious acts attributed to Hamilton was the slaying of Police Sergeant William T. Shanley, on December 14, 1933, in an automobile repair shop on Chicago's north side. Dillinger, after his return from Tucson, bragged he was the one who drove Hamilton out of town after Hamilton had killed Shanley.

A third killing, that of a policeman during a bank robbery at East Chicago, Ind., in January, 1934, was also charged to Hamilton.

The first story of Hamilton's death was told by Dillinger when he was lodged in the Crown Point jail after his capture in Arizona. He told police Hamilton had died as a result of wounds suffered in the East Chicago raid and that his body had been tossed into a river in the Calumet district.

Other Crimes.

Other crimes of which Hamilton was suspected included:

The $12,000 holdup of a bank at St. Mary's, Ohio; the holdup of a bank messenger at the City, Ind.; the looting of a police station at Auburn, Ind.; a similar raid on the police station at Peru, Ind.; bank robberies at Greencastle and South Bend, Ind.; and the robbery of the American Bank & Trust Company at Racine, Wis.

FERA CHECK FORGING STATE LEASES BLOCK FOUND BY DETECTIVES FOR FARMER MARKET

dozens of this type of law-breaker to deal with before the court opens in October," Mr. Hay said yesterday.

The crime is simple and easily accomplished. The method of detection at this early stage is tedious and difficult, but the secret service processes are thorough and relentless and the averages in the number of solutions being turned in by Mr. Brodnax daily reach that 90 out of 100 offenders face certain punishment.

Millions of checks for small amounts are mailed monthly by the FERA. All are drawn on the United States treasury and are filed away in Washington after they have been cashed and returned to the government, cancelled.

Thousands Transients.

Thousands of persons on the relief rolls are transients. They live in one house a few months at a time and move to another as the difficulty of meeting their rent payments increases. The checks that they have been receiving through the mails continue to arrive at the address which is on the government rolls.

Sometimes a new tenant in the house receives the check and is tempted to cash it. Sometimes neighbors receive the mail and suffer the same temptation. Some checks are lost and picked up on the streets. Many are stolen and these cases are the most numerous.

The person who is cashing a stolen or lost check merely signs the name of the person whose name it bears and because no one is familiar with the signature of that person, he has little difficulty in making some small purchase at a neighborhood store and pocketing the change.

It is to stop this practice among small merchants of accepting these checks from strange persons that Mr. Hay and Mr. Brodnax yesterday joined in their appeal to curb the racket.

Its source by accepting them only from persons they know.

Effective Method.

This method, it is admitted, will probably work hardships on thousands of persons on relief rolls who will meet a new difficulty in getting their checks cashed. The method, however, is considered the most effective to stop the racket.

Discovery of the crimes is possible only when some person on a relief roll complains that he has not received his check.

This causes an involved investigation that is proving costly to the government. It takes from three to six months to trace some of these forged checks and trap the forger.

Each canceled check is on file in Washington. Photostatic copies of these cancellations are made when the complaint is received by a person from whom the check was stolen.

Handwriting Checked.

The handwriting is checked by secret service agents to determine if the complaint is honest and when it develops that the signature is actually a forgery, secret service operatives must reason out by a process of elimination just who committed the forgery.

Neighbors are questioned and all other suspects visited. Handwriting specimens are checked and fingerprints examined. This involved work takes time and costs money.

Most difficult are the cases where checks are stolen from mailboxes. These are usually traced to practiced criminals, who are detected through fingerprints.

The mass work of piling up daily in Mr. Brodnax's office, but his staff is plodding on and effective means to stop these new racketeers are expected to be determined soon.

SMITH AND TALMADGE SUPPORTED BY HEARST

"constitutionalist," the dispatch said. It is designed to defeat President Roosevelt through defection of the solid south.

The dispatch said Colby was reported as assured of the support of Senator Albert C. Ritchie, Talmadge and Justice William R. Patterson, of the Maine supreme court. He also was reported to have a list of 200 prominent democrats who will sign the call for organization.

Down in Georgia, Governor Talmadge insisted it would be disastrous for the party to reject the Roosevelt-Glass dropped in to bid good-bye to President Roosevelt, before returning to Virginia. Of all democratic antagonists to key New Deal legislation, he stands out.

The White House said the meeting was friendly. Observers recalled that Glass and his colleague, Senator Byrd, indignantly denied recent published intimations they would be aligned against their party next year.

TALMADGE DENIES PART IN THIRD PARTY PLANS

GOVERNOR Talmadge, who was shoved into the front ranks of bolting democrats from the New Deal under the banner of a "constitutionalist" party Wednesday, but he shook his head negatively when asked to confirm his reputed position.

"That's the first I've heard of it," said Talmadge, who is a member of the national administration committee from Georgia.

A bitter foe of the national administration, however, he shook an accusing finger at Washington where he said President Roosevelt had repudiated party principles, and predicted victory for the national democratic party.

"If Roosevelt is renominated at the next democratic national convention," he said, "he will run under the name of a democrat, which he is not. It will mean sure defeat for Roosevelt and defeat for the party."

A dispatch carried in New York from Charles R. Michael, at Chicago, quoted an unnamed prominent citizen returning from the home of William Randolph Hearst, in California, as saying that the independent democratic party was about to be launched.

Colby Named Leader.

It named Cambridge Colby, secretary of state of New York, as leader, and said that definite plans of organization probably would be announced in October.

Colby was reported in dispatches as assured of the support of Governor Talmadge, of Georgia; former Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York; and Senator Charles McNary, of Maryland, and Justice William R. Patterson, of the Maine supreme court.

Talmadge professed no knowledge of the plan.

"My idea for the only success of the democratic party of this country," he said, "is to disprove the policies of the present administration in Washington at the next national democratic convention."

"Go back to the fundamental principles of Americanism; name standard bearers who not only by word but by deed represent these principles."

"If this is done the whole United States will have faith and confidence in the democratic party, and another victory will be assured."

Shortly after opening warfare on President Roosevelt, Talmadge began talking about a third party in 1936.

"The third party is already here; it's the brain trusters and Roosevelt," he said.

Hearst said "I do not know."

Four Stolen Mules Found By Farm-Born Detective

A detective familiar with the idiosyncrasies of a mule yesterday, with his partner, recovered four mules stolen last Friday in Woodruff, S. C., at the Atlanta stock yards.

The mules were valued at $800.

Detectives J. J. Chester, farm-born and reared, and Detective Leo Nahlik were responsible for the unusual recovery of stolen goods.

A curious reporter, sometimes accused of investigating aspirations, interviewed the officers with a view to learning how one went about identifying stolen mules, and passes along the information—you take the owner with you. Three of the mules were here, but the fourth had already been sold and was on his way to Soperton. The owner took the other three back to Woodruff yesterday, and the fourth will follow in a few days.

The curious reporter's interview with the mules failed a mule yesterday, they refused to be quoted about their harrowing experiences.

employees hired by the majority bloc be dropped from the pay roll; that the insurance program, which was rejected this year by Dr. Adams, be changed after conference with insurance authorities; that no money be spent by the county unless all five commissioners are in agreement; that a new juvenile detention home be erected; that the facilities of the county jail, now lying idle because of friction between Deputy Sheriff Bob Holland and W. T. Furr, the building engineer, be put in use; that remodeling the jail be resumed as soon as the county has sufficient money; that the facilities of the county jail be put in use; that the county stay within its budget.

These recommendations followed a seven-week investigation by the grand jury which was brought on by Commissioner Longino. The leader of the minority faction charged the majority members with waste and extravagance and with running a "political job shop."

He termed employees who have no useful work to do, "parasites."

whether there will be a constitutional democratic party or not. And if there should be, I do not know who, the nominee of such a party will be.

He said he did not know who the nominees of the republican party would be. "I suppose Mr. Roosevelt will be the nominee of the socialist democratic party, but even that is not a certainty."

"Under such circumstances, no one could possibly pledge himself in advance to support any party," he said.

When platforms are adopted and candidates named he said he could decide but "I will say, however, that I think there should be a Jeffersonian democratic party in the field."

His assault on the administration charged it had "adopted all the socialist principles; it has repudiated all the policies of the democratic platform; all the promises of the candidates on the recent alleged democratic ticket; all the policies of the historic democratic party; all the policies of Jefferson, who founded the democratic party."

He asserted the administration should not be allowed to use the name "democratic."

Horse and Buggy Nation.

Pointing to the roster of democratic Presidents he said "These horse and buggy founders and builders of the grand old democratic party were also in the main the founders and builders of this horse and buggy nation. They wrote its principles of liberty, equality and opportunity. They won its battles. Surely that genuine democratic party of our horse and buggy fathers should have legal representation at the polls."

"I do not know whether Mr. Smith is willing to run for President again or not," Mr. Hearst said.

"But I think he will feel, with other good citizens, that in the coming election we are not merely electing a President but saving America."

(Smith could not be immediately reached for comment.)

Hitting again at the administration, Hearst said "I think, too, that this regular democratic party should sue out an injunction to prevent the socialist party from using its name."

ROPER GIVEN CREDIT FOR HIGHWAY PEACE

tional democratic leaders to President Roosevelt. As a result of discussions they had on their trip Governor Talmadge was induced to come to Washington for a White House conference with the President, their first meeting since the Governor's break some months previously with the administration.

Immediately preceding the White House conference Governor Talmadge, Mr. Howell and Secretary Roper had lunch together in the latter's private office where the Georgia situation was gone over at length.

While the new celebrated White House conference was cordial and friendly, the President and the state executive, later conferences between Governor Talmadge and Chief Maclellan were not so harmonious, resulting in a continuation of the long-standing deadlock.

Last week Mr. Howell again asked Secretary Roper to intercede in the Georgia row after the state board objected to the Wallace proposals for increasing engineers' salaries and creating two additional engineering divisions in connection with the enlarged road construction program. His suave diplomacy is credited with much that has been accomplished in ironing out the differences.

At any rate, several days before yesterday's announcement was made regarding the new letter to be sent the state board he wrote Mr. Howell the following report on the situation as it was then shaping up:

"Dear Clark:

"At once upon receipt of your letter in the matter of Georgia's allotment for highway work, I took up the matter with the proper officials here and I am gratified to say that it appears the entire matter is nearing satisfactory adjustment. Unless something unforeseen develops, I do not believe that any further difficulty will be experienced."

"With kindest regards, I am, very sincerely, "DANIEL C. ROPER."

Crackers and Pelicans Rained Out in Opener; Play 2 Tonight

It was in the old, old days of the Southern league. And in Mobile. The Atlanta catcher was muchly enraged at the umpire. So much so that the umpire ejected him from the game, firmly, but definitely out. The catcher raged and refused to go. "What's the delay?" asked his fellow umpire, coming in. "You see those two buzzards up there?" said the umpire. (The buzzards fly high at Mobile.) "Well, I am waiting for them two buzzards to fly down here and take this carrion crow out of the ball park."

And that was enough. The catcher went out of there. The hero of that yarn was in our town yesterday. Scotty Chestnut, the old umpire. Most of the stories heard about the umpires of today were originated by Scotty Chestnut, who today is a well-known theatrical man.

Once when he was umpiring in New Orleans, Brick Owens was catching for one club and New Orleans, with Johnny Dobbis as manager, had an outfielder named Bloom at bat.

He was a miserable hitter but a great fielder. The pitcher zoomed one in. It flicked Bloom's sleeve. Or at least Scotty thought so.

"Take your base," said Chestnut. Owens exploded. "No, no," he yelled. "Did it hit you?" asked Chestnut. "Sure," said Bloom. And got his base.

Owens raged and raged. The idea of believing a ball player. The next inning Bloom came up and the count was two and three and Chestnut called him out on a wide one. Bloom turned and was about to berate Chestnut. Johnny Dobbis rushed up.

"It was a foot outside," yelled Dobbis. Bloom's jaw fell. He recalled the inning before. "It was right down the middle, Johnny," he said.

And within a few days Bloom was on his way. Johnny Dobbis would have no one around who would agree with an umpire.

"BUY THOSE BUMS A DRINK!"

Scotty Chestnut was fanning around the lobby yesterday after the ball game was rained out.

Larry Gilbert, the New Orleans manager, recalled another Chestnut story of the old days. The umpires and ball players did not speak in those days when they met off the field. The same custom prevails today. But not as strictly as in the old days. The players all rather liked Scotty Chestnut once the game was over.

This evening two ball players were at one end of a bar in New Orleans when Scotty Chestnut came in at the front end of the bar.

He had a beer and then, looking down the bar, saw the two ball players.

"Bartender," he called in a loud voice, "you see those two bums down there at the end of the bar? Well, give them a drink."

A few minutes later, when the drink was gone, one of the ball players called out, loudly:

"Oh, bartender. You see that old guy up there at the head of the bar? The one who can hardly see? Well, fill up his glass."

They each bought each other several drinks and then went their respective ways. And they hadn't spoken to one another at all.

"THAT'S $10 MORE."

Bill Sharpe recalled for Scotty Chestnut another story of the good old days when Doc Johnston was playing first base for Chattanooga more than two decades ago.

Chestnut put Doc Johnston out of the game and fined him $10. The fans were indignant, Johnston being an idol. They began to throw money into the park. With the help of players Doc Johnston gathered it up in his cap. And then he hustled up to Scotty Chestnut.

"Look here, you blind bum," he said, "this is what the fans think of you fine."

"How much is there?" asked Chestnut. "Eighteen dollars, you big robbing rascal," said Johnston, using even more emphatic words.

"Dear, dear me," said Scotty Chestnut. "Did I say $10 a while ago? I meant $20."

Players had to lead the apoplectic Johnston away. He stood to lose $2 despite the contributions. Somehow the old stories seem funnier.

THE GREAT LEADER.

Mr. William Terry, the great leader, is leading his ball clubs along familiar paths. They followed the same ones last fall.

They dropped a double-header yesterday as the Cardinals won two games. Unless something happens the Cardinals will go on to win.

The Cardinals, many of them, don't care a great deal about their manager. Most of them dislike the Cardinal system. But Frankie Frisch manages to lead them just the same. They are a swaggering, swashbuckling, gashouse crew.

The Giants give the impression of being driven. They didn't follow Terry last year and they aren't just now.

The idea would seem to be that Bill Terry, great first baseman, isn't a leader.

LARRY GILBERT, GREAT GUY.

There is no finer fellow in baseball than Larry Gilbert, of the Pelicans, and no better manager. And one story which illustrates his character concerns a hot pennant race of several seasons ago.

Gilbert had a shortstop who was very weak at the position. He finally obtained a better one. On the day he reported the father and mother of the inefficient shortstop arrived in town to see their son play. They had come a long distance. They remained two days. And those two days they saw their son play baseball.

"I wish they'd hurry up and leave town," moaned Larry Gilbert to a newspaperman. "It may cost us the pennant."

But Larry Gilbert wasn't going to disappoint the boy's parents. It was bad managing, perhaps, but not bad humanity. He's a great guy and always has been.

MR. KEEFE RECOVERS.

Mr. William McGregor Keefe, the gentleman from the New Orleans Times-Picayune, arrived in our midst yesterday to cover the doings of the Pelicans.

Mr. Keefe, shivering in the cool and healing Atlanta breezes, was recovering rapidly from the usual prickly heat which New Orleans residents have from March until November.

Mr. Keefe also is a grand guy, a credit to the business of writing sports, and an institution in New Orleans. And very properly so.

Ball Players Rest While It Rains Outside - - - 'Stormy' Weatherly Confined to Bed

The Pelicans couldn't leave their hotel yesterday to play the Crackers because of the rain which made the game impossible. So some of them, top left, had a little penny-ante game of "Down the River," also known as "Seven-Toed Pete" or "Quick Death." Left to right in the game: Eddie Rose, Chick Autry, Eddie Gleeson, Del Wetherell, Al Milnar, Ed Walsh, Bill Thomas. At the right is a sick young man. He's "Stormy" Weatherly, crack rookie outfielder, and he's sick because he has a badly infected foot which will keep him out 10 days. Larry Gilbert, Pelican manager, is having a look at the foot and thinks it's better. But he can't use the boy. Photos by George Cornett.

ALBERT JONES IS DEFEATED

Atlantan Loses To Augustan in Best Match at Biltmore Club.

By Betty Mathis.

Atlanta tennis seems to be jinxed by the weatherman. For two consecutive days rain has halted play in the Georgia state tennis tournament now in progress at the Biltmore Tennis Club.

One match in the men's singles—that between Marion Reese and Louis Enloe—was interrupted Tuesday afternoon by showers.

Junior men's matches were scheduled for yesterday morning. The women were to begin play at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. A few of the young men were able to complete their matches; none of the women met.

Today there will be a full day, with some entrants playing as many as three matches. Four events will be run off today, as first and second round junior matches will share honors with the ladies in the morning. In the afternoon more ladies' matches and men's doubles are on the program.

The doubles draw is small, with only 15 teams entered. Seeded teams in order are Jimmy Halverstad and Marion Courts, Bud Lindsay and Tom Timlin, Hudson Hanna and Roswell Lee, Preston Chambers and Jack Simpson.

In the few matches completed Wednesday play was good and showed promise of excellent second and third round play. Only unseeded players saw action.

Best play of the day was between Albert Jones, of Atlanta, and Arthur Mayrort, of Augusta. Jones played his usual good game but the lad from Augusta outplayed him in practically every department of the game. Jones, who had been in the third-seeded position in the men's singles play on Tuesday morning, ran into difficulties in his match with Mayrort and lost in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1.

All junior players are to be at the club ready for play at 9:30 o'clock so that matches may be run off as promptly as possible.

RESULTS OF WEDNESDAY'S PLAY. Elliott Swalen beat Warren Bearden, 6-1, 6-0.

Don Buffington beat Alvin Gross, 6-2, 6-4. Arthur Mayrort beat Albert Jones, 6-4, 6-1.

Weldon Selinsky beat Duke Elkins, 6-4, 6-4. Al Reid beat Maurice Herzberg, 7-5, 6-4.

Richard Tripp beat Watson Reynolds, 7-5, 6-4.

WOMEN'S SINGLES. First Round. Dot Brown plays Betty Mathis, 4 o'clock.

Prize Lowe plays Martha Young, 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Dave Hedekin plays Dorothy Vogel, 4 o'clock.

Jeannie Fuller plays Kate Jackson, 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Robert Scott plays Sarah Brown, 10 o'clock.

Mrs. George Power plays Marjorie Hollingsworth, 3 o'clock.

Fantusley Caldwell plays Georgia R. Watson, 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Rita Taylor plays Eleanor Wyatt, 10 o'clock.

Margaret See plays Mrs. Ralph Marlowe, 9:30 o'clock.

The Doubles Draw. Halverstad and Courts vs. Reese and Mayrort.

All doubles play scheduled for 4 o'clock.

Gilbert, in New Role, Plays Trained Nurse

'Stormy' Weatherly and Roussaire Lend Only Moral Support; Pels Still Plenty Tough.

By Ralph McGill.

All Larry Gilbert needed yesterday was one of those dinky little white caps and a white starched apron. He was doing trained nurse duty. The Pelican skipper is prepared to throw all his resources in there against the Crackers. But two of his "resources" can lend only moral support.

"Stormy" Weatherly is suffering from a bad foot and will be out 10 days. Roussaire is suffering from a concussion received when he collided with Eddie Rose Tuesday.

Eddie Rose thinks his head must be tougher.

"I was 'out' for three innings," he said. "Fortunately no one hit a ball to me. I couldn't have seen it. My head was ringing like the Swiss bell ringers' act."

STILL TOUGH. New Orleans still is a tough outfit to beat despite the loss of their centerfielder and utility man, Larry Gilbert was around yesterday and seeing that everyone was shipshape and ready for tonight's double-header. It is too bad that our brave lads must take this series. But we need it to keep in front. And these Crackers are dead set on finishing out in front.

The Pelicans spent yesterday seeing picture shows, sleeping, playing bridge and penny ante. They welcomed the rain.

The two most mournful people in Atlanta yesterday were Mr. Earl Mann, the president and secretary of the Crackers, and Mr. Macon Jones, the secretary of the Pelicans.

RISES TWO INCHES. The rain was heavy enough but at Ponce de Leon park the water rose two extra inches. This was brought about by the tears of Mr. Mann and Mr. Jones as they watched a good Wednesday crowd wash out in the rain. They put their arms about one another's shoulders and sobbed for hours.

Tonight's doubleheader is the first of the year for an evening's entertainment. It was necessary because the series with New Orleans is completed with this visit.

"I was hoping we'd come to this town tied with you," said Gilbert. "But we ran into a tough situation at Knoxville and lost two games. We will just have to get them back here."

It should be quite an evening to tonight.

Gulf and Warren To Meet Today

Gulf Refining, league leaders and contenders for the last half crown in the Atlanta Commercial baseball league, will meet the Warren nine at N. W. Piedmont this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Both teams are among the fastest of amateur teams in the city and a good game is predicted.

PACKED HOUSE SEEN FOR PARK

First Game Is at 7:45; 'Bud' Thomas To Face Bill Thomas.

By Jimmy Jones.

There was any remaining doubt as to the size of that Atlanta baseball crowd tonight, all of it has been dispelled by the announcement that there will be a double-header instead of one game and the Crackers will play the New Orleans Pelicans in the first, starting at 7:45 o'clock.

This was occasioned by the interference of the elements again yesterday, which forced the postponement of the series opener between the two Southern league pace-setters.

TWO FOR ONE. There wasn't anything else to be done since there are only three games in the series and it will be impossible to play two games Friday night, since both teams will have to take an early train.

Consequently Larry Gilbert, the Pelicans' pilot, and his capable expul, Eddie Moore, skipper of the Crackers, went about naming their pitchers for the first nocturnal double-header of the season here.

THOMAS VS. THOMAS. The Pelican pitchers will be Bill Thomas, no relation to our "Bud," but quite a pitcher nevertheless, in the first game, and Del Wetherell in the second. Thomas has won 17 games and lost 12 and Wetherell 14 and lost 10.

Atlanta's choices will be "Bud" Thomas, who will be seeking his nineteenth victory in the first game, and Bobby Durham, chubby curve baller, in the second.

Durham has won 13 games and lost seven.

Larry Gilbert has reserved his ace, Al Milnar, for Friday's game.

It is a lot of excitement to be jammed into one night's action, with both teams struggling for possession of first place, but the town can take it. Chances are, instead of turning out a mere 15,000 persons, there will be closer to 20,000 tonight in event of fair weather.

VERY IMPORTANT. First place hinges on this series, no doubt as to that. If the Crackers can take the Pels two out of three, their first place lead will be four games instead of the present two, and New Orleans being on the road a majority of its remaining games, will have a tough time catching up.

The Crackers, on the other hand, need to take the series, for they are off on their last road trip of the season Saturday, one of 11 games, embracing Nashville, Knoxville and Chattanooga. They return here September 9 to wind up the season with four games each with Knoxville and Chattanooga.

GREAT SERIES. It is undoubtedly the best series of the year thus far. And the Crackers

GASTONIA WINS 2ND STRAIGHT

GASTONIA, N. C., Aug. 28.—(P)—Gastonia's Junior American Legion baseball team advanced to within one game of the national championship today as it defeated Sacramento, Cal., the western champions, for the second straight day, 8 to 1, before 7,000 fans.

The Gastonia juniors walked away with the game behind the four-hit pitching of Bobby Lee Hamilton. Gastonia pounded Kennan, who lasted only two and a third innings, and Wakefield, for 12 safeties, including four doubles.

The two teams will meet in the third game of the five-game series here tomorrow and should Gastonia win again, the "little world's series" would be all over and Gastonia would have the national title in the bag.

Should the westerners squeeze in a victory, the two clubs would hook up again Friday.

The eastern champions scored three runs in the second inning to take the lead, which they held for the rest of the way. Sacramento came back in its half of the same frame to get its lone tally.

Dr. Jack Jones Wins Medical Tourney

Dr. Jack Jones, Dr. C. Laws and Dr. Harry Rogers were winners Wednesday afternoon at Ansley Park in the regular monthly one-day tournament for members of the Fulton County Medical Society.

Dr. Jones won low gross, a 73. Dr. Laws won low net, 65 and Dr. Rogers won the bogey with a net 71.

Dr. F. G. Hodgson placed second and Dr. J. H. Kelley won third place in the bogey.

A "lowers-pay" tourney failed to materialize, as many of the members were held away because of the rain.

A "Dutch timed" was served at the club at 6 o'clock Wednesday night.

BELMONT ROUTS CHATTANOOGANS

Only two games in the FERA diamond ball tourney were played last night.

At Grady field the 10 from Belmont, N. C., had no opposition in the way of the Chattanooga Gas Company, winning 25 to 3 in a nightmare of errors, walks and strikeouts.

Tennessee hurler, surrendered only eight hits and fanned 13 batters, but he more than offset that with 19 free passes, several times forcing in a run. Putrid support, which allowed singles to go for homers, aided in his rout.

The Macon Postoffice team swamped the Ft. McClellan Headquarters Club, 12 to 1, at Cherokee field. Homers by Rawlins, with two on in the ninth, for the Georgians and by Ringard, for the Alabamians, were the features.

Larry Gilbert Signs Smithwick, Atlanta Boy American Bakeries' Batting Star To Take Weatherley's Place in Lineup Tonight.

By Jimmy Jones.

Larry Gilbert, who is one of the finest of people—and managers—usually is good for a story on a rainy day. And Mr. Gilbert's stories are always the printable kind, for his word is generally rated around the league as maintaining its par value at all times.

Consequently, when several exceedingly damp gentlemen of the press (note: from the rain) descended upon the manager of the New Orleans Pelicans in the hotel lobby yesterday, he wasn't long in digging up a story.

It was to the effect that he has signed Audley (Smitty) Smithwick, young Atlanta sandlotter, and that he will be in center field for his ball club in the double-header tonight.

NO-HANCE FORMERLY CALLED IS POSITIVE IN BOILS

If staphylococcus, gonorrhea, syphilis, and other bacteria are the cause of the infection, the No-Hance is positive in its action on BOILS.

It stops growth of germs, stops pain, and aids nature by helping to localize infection. By these processes, it hastens the ripening and discharge of pus, and promotes healing of the boil. No-Hance is excellent for cuts, skin abrasions, pimples, and minor rectal irritations.

COTTON MEET IS SET FOR GRIFFIN FRIDAY

Sponsors for One-Variety
Seed in Georgia To Hold Fourth Session.

GRIFFIN, Ga., Aug. 28.—Georgia agricultural leaders are expected to attend the fourth annual session of the Orchard Hill Cotton Improvement Association at Orchard Hill Friday.

The meeting is expected to be attended by at least 1,000 persons. A barbecue will be held at noon. Speakers will include Roy E. East, Harry L. Brown, Dr. S. V. Sanford, C. A. McLendon, E. C. Westbrook, L. I. Skinner, G. B. Walker, originator and promoter of the one-variety cotton seed, who lives in Stoneville, Miss.

The Orchard Hill Association introduced the one-variety cotton movement in Georgia four years ago and since that time the plan has spread to all parts of the state.

Formerly in 1931, with 19 farmers in the Orchard Hill community as members, 200 acres were planted to Stoneville No. 2 cotton, and 140 bales were produced. The next year 60 farmers produced 800 bales from 1,800 acres. In 1933, 200 farmers produced 2,000 bales from 4,000 acres. Last year 500 farmers produced 4,000 bales from 5,000 acres. This year 650 farmers have 11,065 acres planted in Stoneville. This cotton represents approximately 95 per cent of all the cotton in the entire county that allotsments were received on.

W. C. Weldon is president of the association. Carson Crawley is vice president, and Albert G. Swint is secretary-treasurer and ginster. John Harlow is Spalding county agent.

PLANS PUSHED FOR 60 'MYSTERY PLANES'

New Naval Aircraft To Be
Speedier and More Powerful.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 28.—(UP)—Quietly and without the fanfare which accompanied flights of the Douglas "mystery plane," plans for construction of 60 super fighters for the naval patrol service rapidly are being completed here.

The Consolidated Aircraft Corporation, rushing construction on its new plant, has been awarded the contracts for building the ships after a series of unheralded flights on the East coast.

The Douglas plane, still a "mystery," but no longer an exciting one, is stored at the Naval air station. The plane, found unsuited to navy needs, must remain there for the customary year's secrecy surrounding every new plane tested by the navy.

The new planes, built along lines of present patrol ships, but with more power, speed and a longer cruising range, are to be of the flying boat type.

Two wasp double-bank motors of approximately 500 horsepower or more will be used, and are expected to provide a top speed of more than 200 miles an hour. The cruising range is to be lengthened until the planes may perform maneuvers more than 1,200 miles from their home base.

A formal motion for a new trial is expected to be filed by a counsel for the defendant, Paul Etheridge Sr., of Atlanta.

PARALYSIS LOSES GRIP, SCHOOLS WILL OPEN

Virginia, Carolina Cases
Drop, But New York Reports Increase.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—(AP)—As infantile paralysis was fast losing its hold in Virginia and North Carolina, Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings, of the Public Health Service, said today schools "practically everywhere" could open on time.

In Virginia, where talk of delaying school opening had been general, only 39 new cases were reported for the week ending last Saturday as compared to 75 cases the week previous.

In North Carolina, the new cases numbered 11 as compared with 17 the week before, a situation no longer regarded as unusual for the time of year.

Even in other states where the disease showed a tendency to rise, the surgeon general said no increase would follow school opening if advice of health authorities is followed.

"The old-fashioned idea, when disease threatened or an epidemic was present, was to close the schools," Dr. Cummings said, "under up-to-date conditions, it is only exceptionally such a course is wise."

In all states where new cases numbered more than 10 cases, the report at the Public Health Service today was as follows:

Rising incidence: New York, 201 cases of which 251 were in New York city for the week ending last Saturday, as compared with 244 cases of which 205 were in New York city the week before; Michigan 87 as compared with 40 the week before; Kentucky, 36 as compared to 27; New Jersey, 26 as compared to 19; Rhode Island, 39 as compared to 12; Wisconsin 10 as compared with 1.

Falling incidence: Massachusetts 112 as compared with 116; California, 24 as compared with 34; Pennsylvania, 11 as compared with 12; Connecticut, 40 as compared with 43.

The Public Health Service still has its experts at work on vaccine studies in infantile paralysis prevention in Virginia and North Carolina.

FEATHER IN HER HAT

By Julie Anne Moore

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE. In the little reception room at the hospital, Rita and Rita's mother, back in Washington, Rita knows Bill Hudson, correspondent there for a New York paper. He is a friend of Mollie Winslow, special writer on the Globe, with whom the girls stay temporarily. Mollie gets a mysterious phone message that Fuhman Wells, Senator Runkbraker's secretary, is lying murdered in the Lincoln Memorial reflecting pool but he is at her office door when she hangs up. Later the same voice phones that Dean, Runkbraker's son, is a murder victim and that the senator jumped from the Washington monument. Ann meets Lee Monday, Bill's friend, young, wealthy and a famous aviator, Carl Palmer, Department of Justice agent, makes Runkbraker's daughter, Selma, jealous by his attention to Rita. The senator discharges Wells at Selma's hysterical request. At a dinner given by Selma a phone message reports Wells dead in the reflecting pool. The guests find Wells himself there pointing to a body in the water. A bomb explodes and he is found dead in the pool, wire twisted about his neck. Selma tells Rita that she was murdered, she says she planted the dummy body to cause excitement at the dinner. Up in a plane with Lee, Ann is surprised when they land on a mountain. Ann escaping with a scalp wound but Lee's leg is broken. A searching plane finds them a day later. Mollie, returning with the president's wife from home, tells Ann that she and Lee are in Elmhurst. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

INSTALLMENT XX.

Ann watched his lips working; he was trying to form them into a smile that wouldn't stay. She could see the muscles twitching in his cheeks. "Bill—her eyes remained linked with his but the nerves at the corners of her mouth quivered like banjo strings. "Bill—don't!" Then she dropped her head and closed her eyes tight as Bill said in an awed whisper: "You mustn't do that, Ann. You mustn't cry. . . . Good heavens, woman! I'll do anything if you won't cry."

She bit her lips, thoroughly ashamed of herself, of her weakness. His tragic little smile had done it. It was as if he had suddenly poured out what was in his mind and in his heart. Perhaps she had had the tiniest suspicion; but if she had, it had no degree lessened what happened? Or had it better keep my mouth shut?

"I returned his ring."

"You didn't!" He groaned. "You're cracked, Ann."

"His mother thought I was trying to rope him for his money."

He halted in his tracks. "Did Lee tell you that?"

She told him what had occurred in the little reception room at the hospital. "You're going to do something. You've got to make a clean break—or give him a chance to straighten things out."

"I thought I had—," She paused. Mollie's portable was clicking away at something for tomorrow's column. "What do you want me to do, Bill?"

"I want you to give him a break."

"Suppose I don't?"

There was a moment's silence. Then: "Well, make up your mind; will you or won't you?"

"Don't shoot, Bill."

She pressed the phone against her mouth. "Listen to me a minute. . . . Her voice was low, shaky. "Remember the day you told me to steer clear of newspaper men. . . . ?" She paused, but there was no answer, and she went on. " . . . and I told you I'd try to remember but that it might not do any good."

"Sure, I remember, I remember," Bill said. "So what?"

"It hasn't done any good, Bill. . . ."

Only the clatter of Mollie's typewriter broke the silence. A full minute she waited, her whole body trembling, before she heard the wire go dead.

Mollie looked up. "Is he coming out of it?"

"I don't know," Ann said. Quietly she went into the bedroom and closed the door and fell across the bed, face down in the covers.

Lee's wire was delivered at the census office the afternoon of the next day. He was flying to Boston on the sixteenth to address a society of aeronautical engineers and would come on to Washington the night of the seventeenth or the morning of the eighteenth. It was imperative that he see her, he said, and he wondered if it would be possible for her to meet him in Boston.

At supper Ann showed the wire to Mollie. Mollie threw up her hands and shouted, "It's a party!"

"We'll all go. We'll go up and give Lee a big hand and have a grand time. . . . You won't mind, will you, Ann

It is done in simple stitches that give a quilted effect—very rich and smart. Crochet this set in some new fall shade that harmonizes with your costume. NANCY PAGE

Neat and Clean Is Claire's Cottage Motto.

By FLORENCE La GANKE.

A tiny clothes line, the kind that is sold with the baby clothes pins for travelers, was attached securely by fastening it in the notches. Then a pocket of chintz or cretonne or denim was made according to the dimensions shown in the leaflet. An eyelet was buttonholed at the exact center. The metal hook was slipped through this eyelet and thus held the clothespin pocket safely in place.

When stockings or fine handkerchiefs were laundered they were attached to the line by means of the clothespins. The hanger was suspended so that a current of air passed all around it and the laundry dried in no time.

At the same time that the donor of this laundry aid was making it for Claire she was working on another idea for a party coat hanger.

All too frequently the coat of a guest is hung up but her gloves, handkerchief, compact, purse, small comb are put on the bed. And something is usually forgotten. Any hostess knows the number of odds and ends she picks up after a feminine bridge party.

Suppose the accessories could be placed in a pocket attached to the hanger that holds the guest's wrap. Then everything is all together.

The idea was not hard to work out. Corduroy, which is inexpensive and excellent for coat hangers since it prevents the garments clinging off the rounding top of the hanger and onto the floor, was used.

The dimensions of the hanger cover and pocket are given in the direction leaflet.

The pocket is an extra piece of material sewed on the outside of one of the sides of the cover as shown in the leaflet.

Direction leaflet on "Party Coat Hanger" may be obtained by sending three cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Address Nancy Page, care of The Atlanta Constitution. (Copyright, 1935, for The Constitution.)

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.
Problems of general interest submitted by readers to be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Write Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield: About a year ago the person who meant more to me than anything in the world to me died. Since that time I have lived "I've just accepted. I know other people manage to pick up their courage and go bravely on but I haven't been able to do this. My friends are somewhat impatient with me and seem to think I should be my old self. I tell them that old self is dead and I will never be the same again. Don't you think friends should be lenient with you under these circumstances? LETITIA.

Answer: If you can't be your old self, you can at least pretend to be, when you are with your friends, pretend you are enjoying them, sympathize with their pleasures as they have sympathy with your sorrows. You had better do this or run the risk of losing them. Good friends are willing to be so selfish for a little while after we have sustained a great loss, then they expect us to go bravely on. We must not let our friends see that we are losing them. Good friends are willing to be so selfish for a little while after we have sustained a great loss, then they expect us to go bravely on. We must not let our friends see that we are losing them.

Perhaps the most anybody should expect of friends is reasonable sympathy when sorrow is fresh, their willingness to stand by until the shock of bereavement is over. You see a great sorrow puts us out of harmony with the life that is going on normally about us. We are standing on the shadow of grief, while others move about freely in the sunshine. Food, drink, sleep, work, play, love are sweet, but to the bereaved they are bitter to us. They are living. We are merely existing. Then isn't it too much to ask of them that they should understand our grief? We see a great sorrow puts us out of harmony with the life that is going on normally about us.
